District Court - Fairbanks

Date: 7/26/11

I am a longtime Alaskan, born to parents who homesteaded in Delta Junction and lived in Juneau, Anchorage, and Palmer after I was born. After high school, I attended Rice University (B. Music 1989). I returned to Anchorage for a time and worked as a clerk during the day and performed opera/theatre at night. Ultimately I moved to Ohio, worked as an administrator and vocalist, and began law school at Capital University. I received my J.D. from Lewis & Clark in 1999. While in law school, I held offices with the Women's Law, ATLA, and Environmental Law associations, served as associate law review editor, participated in mock trial, and worked as a law clerk (civil/criminal, med mal, and personal injury).

My work experience includes an Alaska judicial clerkship, varied private practice, and service as a municipal attorney. Married with children, Fairbanks has been my home for the last 12 years.
